Cast Selected for 'Macbeth'

The Masquers will present Shakespeare's "Macbeth" Feb. 11-13 in the University Theater.

Macbeth, the leading male role, will be played by Jim Baker. Other main players are Bill Dobson as Malcolm; Duncan Cramer as Macduff; Charles Barnett as Ross; Glenn Gauer as Banquo; Melvon Ankeny as Lennox; Austin Gray as Duncan; Kevin Smith as Angus; Larry Barness as Porter; Bruce Buls as Sergeant; Al Holt as the First Murderer; Mark Miller as the Second Murderer; Robert Fox as the Third Murderer and Seyton; David Dunn as a Scottish doctor; Ralph Blakey as an Old Sward; Teddy Ulmer as a Young Sward; Mike Daley as an Old Man; Ken Hale as Donalbain; Roger Westberg as Menethi; Robert James as Calthness; William Allen as Fleance, and Alan Johnson as Macduff's son.

Lady Macbeth is Georgia Tree. Patsy Maxwell will appear as the First Witch; Barbara Trott as the Second Witch; Judith Farlan as the Third Witch; Barbara Jo Whitney as Lady Macduff; Sandra Harris as Gentlewoman to Lady Macbeth, and Jean Belangie as Gentlewoman to Lady Macduff.

Some small roles and walk-on parts for males are still not filled. The production will be directed by Douglas Bankson, associate professor of drama. Ken Hale will be Bankson's assistant.

Dick James will design sets and Sarah James, costumes.

Institutions To Upgrade Counselors

The MSU School of Education will conduct a NDEA Counseling and Guidance Institute this summer, James Thrasher, Dean of the School of Education, said recently.

The U.S. Office of Education awarded the University approximately $50,000 for the institute, which will meet from June 20 to Aug. 13.

Robert Gorman, associate professor in education and director of the Counseling and Testing Center, will be institute director. Gorman has served as director to five previous programs at MSU.

The purpose of the institute is to upgrade the skills and effectiveness of school counselors who are working toward graduate degrees in school counseling and guidance. The institute will enroll 30 elementary and secondary school counselors employed throughout the United States.

Dale Anderson, assistant professor of education and William Stoner, associate professor of education, will teach in the institute which provides 12 graduate hours of course work.

Group Discusses ASMSU Request For Mimeograph

A proposal that ASMSU buy a new mimeograph machine was taken up last night at the weekly Budget and Finance meeting. The committee was presented with the possibility of a $200 duplicator machine or a mimeograph machine that would cost $875.

In other business the committee approved the expenditure of $20 for the Sentinel picture of the Regents for the new organization. The committee could provide the other $20 required. During the discussion the usefulness of the Growlers was questioned.

Fee Increase Under Study For Room and Board in Fall

Some increase in room and board charges at MSU dormitories may be necessary next fall, Pres. Robert Johns said yesterday.

The possibility of an increase in fees for students residing in MSU dormitories was noted in a United Press International story which said MSU will ask the Board of Regents for an increase of seven to eight per cent in room and board charges in the spring.

Pres. Johns said the question of increasing room and board charges is presently under study, but no definite increase has been established.

He said the increase in room and board fees may be necessary because of the rising cost of food. Other overhead costs of operating the dormitory are more or less stable, he said, but the cost of food and manpower needed for maintaining and operating the facilities tends to rise.

Pres. Johns also said he is almost certain the plan to install phones in each of the rooms in the dormitory will go into effect. He said the study being conducted of the proposed plan has not been completed, but permission has been sought from the Board of Regents.

MSU Library Bill Killed

HELENA (AP) — A bill that would have appropriated $3 million for a new library at Montana State University was killed Tuesday by representatives who did not dispute the eventual need for such a building.

The proposal by Rep. Tom Haines, R-Missoula, came out of the Appropriations Committee with an amendment and a recommendation that it "do not pass."

The amendment would have named the library after the late Charles H. Clapp, MSU president in 1921-35.

Haines argued vainly that the bill be printed and advanced to the debate stage. "In view of an anticipated enrollment of 10,000 students by 1975, we've just got to have it," he said.

Education Committee Chairman Magnus Aasheim, D-Sheridan, asked if the library was requested by the Board of Regents. "This is my own idea," replied Haines, adding "It was first proposed years ago by a group known as 'Friends of the Library'."

Aasheim said that since 1959 campus building projects have been a responsibility of the Board of Regents.

Appropriations Committee Chairman Frances Bardanoue, D-

Blaine, termed the request worthy but impossible of fulfilling at this time.

"It is imperative that soon a larger library be built," he said. "We have many, many needs in Montana which we will fail to meet because we simply do not have enough money."

Rep. Robert D. Watt, D-Missoula, said he understands MSU President Johns plans to ask for a new library two years from now.

Haines' effort to keep the bill alive failed 70-18.

Coeds to Drill At Intermission Of Ball Games

Angel Flight and the K-Dettes will make several appearances around the state winter quarter.

The K-Dettes will appear first in Kalispell at a high school basketball game Jan. 30. They will perform at a Missoula Sentinel High School game Feb. 5. Feb. 6 they will be at the Great Falls Central High School basketball game.

The K-Dettes will appear Feb. 20 at the MSC-MSU basketball game in Bozeman, and at the MSU-University of British Columbia basketball game Feb. 26.

Air Force ROTC's Angel Flight performs at the Field House during the MSU-Gonzaga basketball game Jan. 30. They will be at basketball games in Great Falls Feb. 5 and Kalispell Feb. 19. They will appear at a Missoula Sentinel High School basketball game Feb. 12.

Fad Threatens Traditional Sadie Hawkins

Sadie Hawkins may blush in shame, according to a report received from a freshman friend.

"The women are going completely crazy over her," she said.

It all started when two engaged coeds decided that an out-of-town date would not keep them from going to the Sadie Hawkins Dance Saturday. At last report, a third coed had decided to take a "date" of the female gender.

"I'm engaged and can't go any other way. The woman I'm going to the dance with didn't have a date, so we decided to go together," one University coed said.

CB to Appoint Chairmen, Review Tabled Business

Appointment of four committee chairmen and reports from several committees will be main items of business to come before Central Board today.

Chairmen for the World University Service, Leadership Camp, Freshman, Canon and Elections Committee will be chosen. Also a new Kaimin photographer will be appointed.

Committee reports will include a new facility budget; the status of the contract with the New Christy Ministries; a proposal by the Auxiliary Sports Board to govern minor sports by the Big Supply; and portraiture, was reports from special committees on the skating rink, student seating at basketball games and student fees.

CB will sign a contract with the Student Union Special Events Committee to present an Opera and Paul Winter's Jazz Sextet later in the quarter.

The meeting will be held in the Territorial Room of the Lodge.

Remodeled Lodge Grill to Offer Efficiency, Future Possibilities

Remodeling of the Lodge Grill which was begun last quarter will be completed soon. The remodeled grill will make service to the students more efficient and enable the grill to be converted to a Food Service dining facility when the new Student Union is built.

The remodeled grill will provide faster service, a greater menu variety and improved surroundings for the students. New drapes and tables and chairs have been placed in the grill area.

New facilities in the grill include a dishwashing room, a conveyer tract for dishes and a new fountain. Folding doors will replace the green partitions which separate the grill from the dining area.

The contract, costing an estimated $32,000, will be paid by the Food Service. Dohrmann Hotel Supply, Portland, Ore., is contracted to do the remodeling. Planning consultant is John R. Carlson and Associates, Denver, Colorado.

Regents Approve Research Center

The State Board of Regents has approved a Montana Joint University Water Research Center, Arnold W. Bolle, Dean of the MSU School of Forestry, announced.

Application has been made for money available to the states by the federal government for water research.

The program will provide valuable information on water resources and a program of education for students making a career in the field.

A meeting will be held tomorrow on the second floor of Main Hall for faculty and other persons interested in water research.

GPA's for Sports, Activities Disregard Fact That All Pay Fees

Two proposals regarding scholastic requirements for activities supported by ASMSU will be considered by Central Board tonight. One would affect the minor sports, the other all ASMSU-supported activities.

The first proposal, originally recommended by Auxiliary Sports Board last quarter, would require all participants in intercollegiate sports governed by the board to fulfill scholastic requirements of the Big Sky Athletic Conference. The Big Sky rules now govern only major sports—football, cross country, basketball, swimming, wrestling, skiing, track, baseball, golf and tennis.

Those not considered major or varsity sports include women's intercollegiate athletics, bowling and the rodeo, parachute, pistol and rifle clubs. Men's intramurals and WRA were not included in the recommendation by the Auxiliary Sports. Whether they would be included in the GPA requirements proposed for all ASMSU-supported activities would be for CB to decide. We hope they remain an exception.

The other proposal, recommended by Planning Board at yesterday's meeting, would require all participants in activities financed by ASMSU to have a 2.0 grade-point average. This proposal would affect such groups as the band, debate and oratory clubs and the Montana Masquers.

We have a hunch that Planning Board and Auxiliary Sports Board are confused as to the scholastic requirements of the Big Sky. The proposal to have a scholastic requirement for minor sports was brought up fall quarter, then tabled for further study after a protest by bowling coach Vince Wilson. Wilson expressed the opinion that sports such as bowling should no more have GPA requirements than band and debate. We assume that Planning Board therefore proposed that all ASMSU-supported activities be required to have a 2.0 GPA. The Big Sky, however, does not require a 2.0 GPA.

The more important scholastic requirements of the BSAC are:

- The student athlete shall be enrolled in at least 12 quarter hours during the season of participation in an academic program leading to an academic degree.

- The student must earn 36 quarter credits in the 12 months of residency immediately preceding his first varsity participation. Freshmen, however, are eligible for all Big Sky sports except football and basketball if they have fulfilled a proportionate number of credits in their period of attendance prior to such participation.

- Eligibility shall also be determined by cumulative grade points. The number of grade points, in any case, shall not be more than 18 quarter grade points below a "C" average.

In other words, the Big Sky allows considerably more latitude than the 2.0 GPA which Planning Board proposed for all activities. For example, a student with 90 credits would still be eligible if his GPA is higher than 1.8, a student with 180 credits if his GPA is higher than 1.9.

The important question in both these proposals is the reason for a scholastic requirement. The BSAC rules were not made to limit the number who can participate in varsity sports or to insure that athletes have a certain degree of intelligence. Scholastic requirements are enforced primarily to prevent the "employment" of professional athletes—persons who attend school on scholarship for the sole purpose of participating in a sport.

Because the participants in minor sports and most other activities receive no financial aid, but participate only for the love of the sport or activity, the same reasoning cannot apply in establishing scholastic requirements.

We strongly oppose placing scholastic requirements on all ASMSU activities, particularly band, debate and oratory and Montana Masquers. Every student pays $15 a quarter in activity fees and has a right to benefit from these activities, regardless of GPA.

We hope that no member of CB favors these proposals in order to do "what is best for the student" by insuring him adequate study time. Studying is the responsibility of the student. The student government has no right to legislate how an individual should spend his time.

Despite the fact that eligibility rules of the Big Sky are quite lenient, we also oppose the grade requirements for minor sports. The same reasoning applies. As long as a student pays his fees, he should be able to participate in all activities in which he has the ability.

Even if CB does adopt the by-law change regarding minor sports, which we fear they may, we hope they do not compound their mistake by requiring that all participants in extracurricular activities have a 2.0 GPA. Such a proposal would limit the number of participants in many activities. —djf

Opera Evening To Feature Italian Works

An evening of opera featuring "Pagliacci" and "Cavalleria Rusticana" will be presented by the opera workshop and the Montana Masquers in the Masquer Theatre April 1-4.

"Pagliacci" by Ruggero Leoncavallo is a two-act melodrama. The setting is a southern Italian village between 1865 and 1870.

"Cavalleria Rusticana" by Pietro Mascagni is a one-act tragic drama of common village folk in a Sicilian mountain village late in the 19th century. Both works are in English with translations by Joseph Machlis.

The spring-quarter production will be directed by John L. Lester, professor of music.

"Performance in the Masquer Theatre will provide intimacy and make the language easily understood," Mr. Lester said when commenting on the use of the smaller theater and the entertainment value of the two operas.

Student Tackles Regents In Non-Resident Fees Suit

A legal action with important implications for some non-resident college students will come before District Judge Jack L. Green here tomorrow.

At stake is the University System's power to classify certain out-of-state students as "second-class" residents.

Thomas H. Halazon, 220 Livingston, has entered a show cause petition asking repayment of what he claims he has been overcharged since he came to MSU in 1961.

Halazon, a senior majoring in social welfare, has established Montana residency for all intents and purposes. He has lived in Missoula since 1961. He has worked here and has had to buy a Montana license for his car. He has purchased fishing and hunting licenses. He has paid personal property and poor taxes. He voted as a Montana resident in the November general election.

Yet the University has decreed that he must pay extra fees ranging from $92.50 per quarter when he first entered the school to $112.50 per quarter now. Figuring the out-of-state tuition at $100 per quarter more than that of resident students, Halazon stands to gain a refund of about $1,000 if the court rules in his favor.

The state constitution specifies that an American citizen, 21 years of age or older, must have resided in the state for a year prior to election day to be eligible to vote.

In other words, after an otherwise eligible voter has lived in the state for a year or more he acquires the rights of residency—which might be interpreted to include the right to attend any of the state's university units without paying the non-resident tuition.

Tomorrow Judge Green will ask the Montana State Board of Education to show cause for not refunding the difference between the in-state and out-of-state fees to Halazon.

The action places MSU and the whole university system in a difficult position. If Halazon's petition is upheld, Montana schools almost certainly will be confronted with similar petitions.

Halazon's petition is the first of its kind in Montana. The court will have no similar Montana cases establishing precedent.

If Halazon wins, the precedent could open an important loophole for the unknown number of students from out-of-state who have established Montana residency according to the constitution. The University system may have to re-define its residence requirements.

If Halazon loses, he had better plan to graduate in June because it appears fairly certain that non-resident tuition will increase by about $270 a year next fall. —jdc

Weber's Top BSAC Spot In Jeopardy This Weekend

League-leading Weber State takes a vacation from Big Sky Conference play this week and could lose its hold on the top rung because of it. Montana State or unfettered Gonzaga are the teams with a chance to move past or tie Ogden's Wildcats, who have a 2-0 record.

Four league games are scheduled this week. Tomorrow night, Gonzaga enters Big Sky play, meeting Montana (0-2) in Spokane. Friday night, Montana State (1-0) plays at Idaho (1-1). Saturday evening, Montana goes to Idaho and Montana State to Gonzaga. Idaho State, like Weber State, sees no conference action this week.

If Bozeman's Bobcats whip Idaho and Gonzaga, the defending Big Sky champs, will move ahead of Weber into first place. A sweep by Gonzaga over the two Treasure State schools would put the Bulldogs in a tie with Weber. Weber and Idaho State will keep fresh with non-conference contests. The Wildcats play Portland State at home Friday night. Idaho State, 0-1 in Big Sky standings, plays Colorado State

Friday night and Portland State Saturday night.

Four conference games have been played. Weber wallopped Idaho 105-71 and defeated Idaho State 64-55. Montana State edged Montana in overtime 76-74, while Idaho stopped the Grizzlies 77-58.

This is the second year of Big Sky Conference basketball. Last year, Montana State won the first league title with an 8-2 record. Weber finished a notch behind at 7-3 while Gonzaga and Idaho State had 5-5 records. Idaho was 4-6 and Montana 1-9.

Wrestlers Post 1-0-1 Mark In First Matches of Season

The Grizzly wrestling team posted a 1-0-1 record when it rolled over Eastern Washington State College, 25-3, Friday and tied tough Eastern Oregon College, 16-16, Saturday.

Bob Palmer, Dick Southern and Dick Treat scored pins for the University.

On the basis of this showing and on the "good team spirit" exhibited in practice, coach Rainer Matzenga said that the Grizzlies have a "good chance" in conference competition.

Much of the season outcome hinges on the triangular meet here Friday afternoon. Montana State College and Washington State College are the visiting teams.

The results of Friday and Saturday's matches are as follows:

MSU vs. Eastern Oregon

123—Southern (M) pinned Burres, 1:47.

130—Moore (O) decisoned Neumeyer, 11-5.

137—Palmer (M) decisoned Quant, 3-2.

147—Kemp (O) decisoned Lucey, 6-4.

157—Treat (M) pinned Steele, 1:10.

167—Schimmel (O) pinned Lung, 2:00.

177—Holliday (O) pinned Astrom, 2:30.

ACCURATE SHOOTER — Bill Sullivan, 6-4 junior forward from Anaconda, is leading the Grizzlies in field goal percentage. He also is second in free throw percentage and third in scoring average.

Tips Trail Opponents In Every Department

Despite a 4-7 record, Montana remains relatively close to its opponents in all statistical departments, yet trails in every important one.

El Samelton, Wade Hughes, Bill Sullivan and John Quist lead Grizzly basketball statistics after 11 games.

Samelton ranks first in both scoring and rebounding. Hughes is second in scoring and third in rebounding. Sullivan has the best field goal percentage, is second in foul shooting and third in scoring. Quist is number two in both rebounding and field goal percentage.

Samelton is averaging 17.2 points and 6.4 rebounds per game. Hughes is scoring at a 9.7 clip and clearing the boards for a 5.8 average. Sullivan has drilled home 55.9 per cent of his field shots, 71.4 per cent of his free throw attempts and has a 9.1 scoring average. Quist has picked off 6.2 rebounds a game and has hit on 46.2 per cent of his field goal attempts.

Gene Williams leads in free throw accuracy with a percentage of 77.8.

Samelton has had the best scoring night, pouring in 24 points in last week's 68-67 loss to San Diego. Hughes' 13 rebounds Saturday night against Montana State is a season high for Ron Nord's club.

Bill Rice has snared 12 against Wyoming.

The 11 Grizzly opponents have averaged 74.3 points per game compared to MSU's 71.7 pace. The opposition is shooting 42.7 from the field, while Montana has a 42.4 mark.

Montana has made 305 total field goals, just one shy of the opposition's total. To go along with their 366 field goals, opponents have hit 205 foul shots. The Grizzlies have scored 179 points at the charity stripe.

Foul shooting figures show Montana is cashing in on 66.1 per cent of its tries and the opposition 68.1.

The Grizzlies have hauled down an average of 44.9 rebounds per game, while their opponents are averaging 47.3.

Montana and its opponents have committed the same number of personal fouls—216.

Pistol Teams Compete in 12 Postal Meets

Three MSU pistol teams have compiled a 2-10 record in four postal matches this season.

In postal meets, the teams shoot slow, timed and rapid fire targets. The scores are then sent in for comparison with the opposing team's scores.

MSU has two men's teams and one women's team. This is the only women's team in the nation, so it is forced to compete against men's teams.

Team one has posted wins over Citadel and Stevens Tech and lost to the Coast Guard and the Air Force Academy. Team two has lost to the University of Oklahoma, University of Alaska, Michigan State and Oglethorpe.

Team three (women) has lost to Oglethorpe, Arlington, the Air Force Academy and the University of Oklahoma.

Johnson Proposes Education Program

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON

President Johnson sent Congress a record $1.66-billion toll-through-teens education program yesterday, with an open invitation to private and parochial schools to take part.

The proposed program, with heavy emphasis on the children of low-income families, is the heaviest presidential artillery yet aimed at Johnson calls his war against poverty.

The provisions for non-public schools to share in the benefits seem certain to trigger a bitter fight on Capitol Hill.

Even before the details were laid before Congress, it was learned, the group known as "Protestants and Other Americans United for Separation of Church and State," made known its opposition.

However, it also was learned that the Roman Catholic hierarchy generally approves, and so do some officials of the National Education Association, which traditionally opposes the use of public funds for non-public schools.

Under the aid-to-education program recommended by the President, Montana will get an estimated share of $1,326,306.

The Senate Commerce Committee unanimously approved yesterday President Johnson's nomination of John T. Conner, New Jersey drug manufacturer, to be Secretary of Commerce.

Chairman Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., arranged to have the committee's action reported immediately to the Senate in hopes of confirmation of the nomination before the end of the week.

The President hopes, it is understood, that Conner can take over Friday from retiring Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges.

Conner is Johnson's first Cabinet nominee.

The four U.S. Senators from Montana and Wyoming plan to introduce a bill in Congress Thursday for a 10-year recreation development around Yellowstone Dam in southern Montana.

The recreation area would cost $7,700 million.

The proposed Big Horn Canyon National Recreation Area would include 63,287 acres along the Big Horn River in Montana and Wyoming. The $110 million Yellowstone Dam is scheduled for completion by the Bureau of Reclamation in 1966.

PHOENIX

Republican National Chairman Dean Burch yesterday announced he will resign, effective April 1, and that Ray Bliss, Ohio GOP chairman, has consented to become National Chairman.

Burch said he will submit his resignation at a meeting of the Republican National Committee in Chicago Jan. 22-23 and added that unity cannot be achieved by forcing a vote over his chairmanship in Chicago.

"Even if I won under those circumstances, neither I nor those who opposed my chairmanship would be comfortable and my effectiveness would be impaired," Burch said.

NEW YORK

Top officials of the Longshoremen's union began a program of persuasion yesterday aimed at changing the membership's rejection of a new contract and ending a costly dock strike.

The rejection by New York dock workers triggered a strike by 60,000 members of the AFL-CIO International Longshoremen's Association in ports from Maine to Texas under a one-strike, all-strike policy.

The IILA president, Thomas W. Gleason, met with delegations from all of the union's local here, setting in motion the campaign to prepare the members for another vote on the contract.

JAKARTA, Indonesia

A Foreign Office spokesman charged Tuesday that Britain is preparing to attack Indonesia by creating "another Suez incident" in this part of the world.

In a statement, spokesman Ganis Harsono said the British military buildup in neighboring Malaysia "is unprecedented in peace time."

Harsono said Britain used Egypt's seizure of the Suez Canal as a pretext to attack the Egyptian ans in 1956 and such an action "will be repeated by Britain by using the Malaysia dispute as an excuse."

"In this respect Indonesia is on the alert," Harsono declared, "and Indonesia will not stand alone if attacked by Britain."

HELENA

After days of delay, two powerful Democratic senators declared Tuesday night to be the compromise choice to direct a legislative committee handling the politically hot reapportionment problem. They would be named co-chairmen, setting a legislative precedent.

The two men, each with a different view on reapportionment, are Sen. Dave M. Manning, D-Treasure, dean of the Montana Legislature, and Sen. David F. James, D-Liberty, another legislator with great seniority. Manning and James each represent counties with less than 3,000 population.

SAIGON

Noisy antigovernment mobs roared through the central Vietnamese city of Hue again Tuesday, parading with banners in front of the U.S. consulate.

Antigovernment demonstrations also began in Da Nang, South Vietnam's second largest city.

Reports from Hue, 400 miles north of Saigon, said some of the marchers carried banners demanding neutralization of the town country.
